Paris, April 13 2012

The notion of sustainable development is steadily gaining acceptance. Across the globe, sustainability is one of the cornerstones of a new participative approach in the design and construction process. The very fundamentals of a project: durability, structure, materials, ecology and social acceptance are being readdressed in the search for an approach which respects society's new concerns and fights social inequality.

LOCUS through its GLOBAL AWARD FOR SUSTAINABLE ARCHITECTURE™ seeks to identify and reward the most innovative and engaged architects from all corners of the globe and to federate them in participative urban renewal projects. LOCUS is supported by the GDF-Suez Foundation and put under the Patronage of UNESCO.
